Department Profile (2012-13 to 2018-19)

I. Introduction

Department of Studies in Kannada Literature, Kannada University, Hampi was started in 1996. Noted Scholar of Delhi University, Prof. T. S. Sathyanath took charge as its first Head of the Department. Consequently, it was headed by noted writers such as Prof. O. L. Nagabhushana Swamy, Prof. H. S. Raghavendra Rao and other eminent scholars of Kannada. Presently, the Department is headed by Dr. Amaresh Nugdoni. Dr. Rahamath Tarikere, Dr. Venkatesh Indavadi, Dr. B. M. Puttaiah, and Dr. Mallikarjun Vanenuru and Dr. Venkatagiri Dalwai are the faculty members. Kannada Literature has a monumental history of 1600 years. The Kannada Departments across the Universities in the state have been rendering their bit to explore the exuberance of Kannada Literature. Likewise, Kannada University, established with the whole intention of research studies, has set up Department of Studies in Kannada Literature to bring more uniqueness in Kannada Studies.

2. Vision of the Department

1. More than a language, Kannada is an embodiment of regional affiliations and personification of human ideas and emotions. Kannada is a medium of perception and deliberation for Kannadigas. It is conspicuous that Literature is often interpreted in conventional parameters. But the Department has tried to sanitize such conventional methods to make Kannada Literature more pervasive and broad. It has strived to make the Literature a part of social and cultural aspect encounter. The Department believes that this approach would pave way for Literature to become a Cultural study.
2. The focus of the Department is to take up comprehensive study of Kannada Literature; it aims at studying at all sorts of writings in Kannada. i.e. oral, medieval and written, ancient and modern. It also has an aim to study texts related to rituals. It has a vision to study the Literature in larger matrix of culture to research on various issues related to history, community, cultural, society and polity.
3. Literature shapes up as per tribulations of Global, National and regional socio-political upheavals. In this backdrop, the Department would like to frame certain methods to analyze the literary works.
4. The Department would like to analyze Literature in the contemporary setup thus keeping aside conventional ideas of interpretation. It would like to portray Literature as a semblance of social, political and cultural movements.
5. The Department has an aim to reach the people interested in Literature, research scholars and scholars by publishing the research dissertations and conducting symposiums.
6. Organizing symposiums and seminars on texts which are culturally significant. These texts can be elucidated in political, cultural, social and literary aspects and provide an approach which can be termed as cultural interaction of texts. Conducting seminars out of the University campus will have an added advantage to reach people.

3. Mission Statement of the Department

- To promote multi-disciplinary research in Kannada literature, culture and society
- To make research materials (both discursive as well as material) available to scholars of Kannada Literature .
- To study the Literature (textual, oral, performative and discursive) practices of the society in general and marginalized communities in particular.
- To develop theory, method, concept and language to meet the research practices of Kannada literature and research community.
- To make available research/knowledge in Kannada to both academics and those who are interested through publications, databases and web services.

4. Uniqueness of the Department

The keen interest of members of this department in various fields makes this Department unique and special. Dr. Rahamath Tarikere has been instrumental in contemplating Kannada Literature in comparison with Sufi, Natha, Shakta, Aroodha and other sects. Dr. Amaresh Nugadoni has devoted himself to carry out research studies on cultural and literary works of Hyderabad-Karnataka region. Dr. Venkatesh Indavadi is interested in carrying out research studies on Manteswamy and Madeshwara sects, richly identified in old Mysore region and in other words called as epic tradition of old Mysore Region. Dr. B. M. Puttaiah has passion and keen interest on literary criticism, Kannada poetics, Dalit studies, cultural studies and political economy. Dr. Venkatagiri Dalwai is expert in Literature Criticism, Dalit Studies and Feminist literature. Dr. Mallikarjuna Vanenuru has excellence over Kannada-Telugu culture.
