Department Profile (2012-13 to 2018-19)

- 1. Introduction: The Folklore department is launched in 1992. It contributing in a various ways with modern understanding. Our aim is to touch the deep root of various Folk Culture. A Department of Folklore study is involved in mainly five aspects of academics. Namely 1) Research 2) Debate on ongoing academic present issues 3) Documentation of Folk concept in various fields 4) Workshop and 5) Teaching programme. Folklore department conduct research on the folklore of Karnataka and also brought. Out a crucial epics of Karnataka in series (10 epics) Apart from research it also conduct, for Ph.D. Students, teaching and guidance for research programs. The department of Folklore has taken up projects of both oral and written texts and interpretation on Interdisciplinary perspective. The department is also running Diploma course, Folk Arts with the help of Distance Education centre and also running a journal called "Janapada Karnataka". Now the department is offering M.A., Ph.D. integrated course in Folklore. At this junction of our 21st century, the entire globe is becoming nearer and so closer through its Techno economical and market based consumer centric productions. Our department is closely observing and re thinking all about these effects. We are not emotional with the romantic ideas and melodies of those earlier studies of folklore. Through the present world experiences we can understand our past. Folklore is not just a study of the past; but at the same time it reflects multiple historical realities also. Our department gives much emphasis on field oriented studies. Field survey, field interactions, field activities are our main criteria's to understand the living folk conditions of rural India. Academics is not just for academic benefits to scholarships. Higher levels of researches should reach the last man and women of our society. The applied sense will make better connections to all sets of societies. Historically, Karnataka have large number of World still alive all over Karnataka with its unique possibility, We are collecting, preserving and interpreting make a bridge in between state to society. Our department is doing such research since the beginning and till to now.

2. Vision Statement of the Department:

- To empower the Researchers/students with holistic knowledge to understand the knowledge system with the help of indigenous and traditional knowledge system. This could be a contestation to a Euro-centric intellectual academics.
- To enable the Students to carry out research with a special focus on the socially and Economically Marginalized Rural Population especially Tribes, Women, Peasants and so on.
- To make an effort in understanding various ideological schools of Folklore studies
- To enhance the skills in interpretation of the facts and sources of Folklore. This would be helpful to the students to improve their critical understanding of the facts and Folklore studies.
- To give more emphasis on the concepts of Peoples Folklore and questioning the concepts of Folk Culture
- Encouraging Researchers in carrying out research project with fieldwork and visiting Archives. The department insists its members to publish ones research work through Prasaranga, a Publication division of the University.

3. Mission Statement of the Department:

Basically the Kannada University is very different than any other universities in Karnataka in a way, we have our own vision and mission as follows. Under this norms our dept. Carrying different types of programs. As follows, and as for these we created curriculum activities under the U.G.C. norms; and also as for the native thinking of our Kannada Identity.

- Basically; our dept have very strong root inclusive vision with past and with the future with common people.
- To remove the gender discriminations we organising every year workshops, filed works.
- To take care we have a special resting room for girls and woman in department.
- We have separate reading and resting rooms to all students.
- We are giving special coaching classes to them.
- We created self sustainable skill to their existences.
- Closely we are in the since of applicable sustainable, and adoptable in research.
- We concerned towards the existence of nomads, tribes, ethnic groups and the migrant people.
- Our dept is always concerned on gender justices in all aspects.
- Our Modernity must re think on the basis of the old folk
- As on the above the poet of Folklore is studying and doing research girl students.
- To impart employability skills.
